For Immediate Release

Toon Boom Wins Big at the Qt/Mac Application Developer Contest

(Montreal, June 29, 2004) –Toon Boom Animation announced today that it has won the prize for Best Original Commercial Qt Application and the overall prize in Trolltech's Qt/Mac Application Developer Contest.

With the Qt/Mac Application Developer Contest, the goal was to invite developers to be creative with Qt for Mac OS® X, and increase the number of innovative applications on the Mac. Trolltech was pleased to receive a large number of high quality submissions.

An excited and impressed jury concluded that: "This is an absolute amazingly good program for creating animations. Even with little artistic ability it is easy to make a small animation, as well as using the sophisticated camera features in the examples demonstrated. The documentation is well put together, the interface intuitive, and the implementation stable. Over all a very nice solution!"

The timing of this award couldn't be better for Toon Boom. They announced yesterday the release of OPUS and Concerto on Mac OS X, also using Trolltech's Qt development solution.
