Toon Boom Studio; King Of Toon

This is the kind of Product that makes me proud to be a Montrealer ! You Bet! Softimage, and various production other 3D applications for the "Hollywood" Market where "Born" and Raised" in Montreal. This one is one of the Best Kept secret around. Toon Boom is actually a 2d animation software that has been use to create many high end, award winning TV advertising. You may have all seen a series of Coke TV Ads, all done using this amazing package that is Toon Boom Studio. I have a challenge for you readers, this summer (specially if el-nino acts up again) You should take a moment to try a demo of Toon Boom, (and since most of you have kids) you should Create your very own cartoon and offer it to your children at bed time. That would be fantastic. Toon Boom Studio is easy to learn, with they're great on-line Tutorials, the tool Palette is complete and easy to use, the interface is so logical ! The price is unbelievably affordable, and is does not take that much Resources to make the whole thing run smoothly. This software deliver the good; nothing on the market at any price can come close to what Toon Boom Studio is, and can do. For that price I would have expected a much less mature, and more of a clunky interface, striped down off a lot of tools, that are usually the "staples" of mid price animation package. I have done the tutorials with success, and now I am happy to tell you that I have begun my very own cartoon, called "Invasion of the WinTel from planet Gates". I am so confident that it will be good that I am willing to show it to anyone, who in return, will show me his! If I where you I would jump on the occasion; to learn a great new software, and to make this summer the most memorable yet for you and your love-ones and who knows maybe you will be the next "great 2D creator" of some prestigious Coke ad campaign! Toon Boom Studio free 30 days downloadable demo is available from Toon Boom Technologies Inc and can be located at: www.toonboom.com

Stone Studio: The True Spirit of Shareware

I Love what Andrew C. Stone is doing. He has put up a great suite of Applications for the design fanatic in you that want a alternative to high end graphic softwares. What you should also know that once you have paid for a application, with Stone Studio, the up-upgrades are free for life? It's all true, that is what I call not only a great deal but is in essence the True Spirit of Shareware. At the center of Stone Studio is Create, a Web- and print-layout application with a complete set of tools for illustration and effects. Ok, now you also get six more applications, Yes SIX !: GIFfun, PackUp&Go, SliceAndDice, PhotoToWeb, PStill, and TimeEqualsMoney. Working seamlessly well together, replacing the need for pricey Web authoring and graphics packages for semi and want-to-be-professionals. Like any other authoring software suite it take some getting use to. The learning curve is actually not that bad. The tools are well taught of and very responsive. Once you get the hang of it you can actually do quite a lot with Stone Studio.

I believe that for my money and giving the fact that Macromedia products are always on the expensive side, Stone Studio is the very best product for creative artist on a tight budget that needs a un expensive suite of design applications. Stone Studio Suite of Applications prove that Bigger is not always better and that more expensive, is no longer where it's at.

Long Live Stone Studio....Long Live Shareware!
